【Name of project】(Year selected: FY2022)

Human Resource Development Program Contributing to the Realization of a Carbon Neutral Society at Asia Pacific International Campus

【Summary of Inter-University Exchange Projects】

【Summary of exchange program】

TCU and ECU will develop a joint degree program, and TCU will establish the new "International Collaborative Program of Transdisciplinary Sciences for Sustainability between Tokyo City University and Edith Cowan University" major in its graduate school. Students from three other Asian universities affiliated with AOFUA will also participate in the program by using ICT to take advantage of the two-hour time difference and realize a real-time international campus. As the Asia-Pacific region is the largest emitter of greenhouse gases in the world, climate change measures, including decarbonizing technologies, transforming the way we consume and the development of social infrastructure, are of paramount importance. This program takes carbon neutrality as its theme to raise consciousness in the Asia-Pacific and work on solutions together. This program cultivates the ability to solve problems by understanding and drawing from diverse viewpoints and values from different countries, and aims to develop a new generation of leaders in the Asia-Pacific.
